Articles of consolidation of the old Kentucky Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Mt. Sterling Telephone Company, the Winchester and Lexington Telephone Companies, which had a combined capital stock of $13,650, were filed Friday in the office of the Secretary of State. The new company is to be known as the Old Kentucky Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, and it has $100,000 capital stock.

Here is a puzzle for distillers, revenue officials and local option ranks. A New York man has invented a whiskey pellet. By a process of distillation and compression, the finest brands of whiskey can be compressed and carried like pills. The intending skylark may now proceed to fill his vest pocket and saunter forth with pills that can be dissolved in the mouth and leave all the taste and effect of liquor. Truly these are stirring times when even the festive flask may be relegated to the shades of a forgotten past.

Talk is cheap, but silence is a better bargain.

L. & E. Extension.

A special from Lexington says: "It is intimated here to-night that J. Kennedy Todd & Co., New York bankers and owners of the Lexington and Eastern railroad, together with the owners of the Norfolk and Western railroad, are preparing to erect a freight and passenger depot here. The plan, it is said, contemplates the extension of the Lexington and Eastern road to connect with the Norfolk and Western at Norton, Va. It is also hinted that W. Del Walbridge and other capitalists interested in the development of canal coal in Morgan county are interested, hoping to find a Southern and Eastern outlet to the Atlantic market for their product. The proposed extension of the Lexington and Eastern would penetrate a rich canal coal territory in Breathitt and Perry counties. Options have been secured on nearly all the property in the east end of the city adjoining Main street and the railroad.

Every community should have both a cooking school and a dramatic school, thus making it possible for the bride to learn how to make biscuit and the young husband to pretend that they are good.

A man giving his name as J. M. Ralston has been arrested in Estill county. He is believed to be wanted in several States on all sorts of charges. His right name is thought to be George Parker.

Raid on 'Shiners'

Deputy Collectors L. T. McClure and J. L. McCoy and two other men raided moonshine stills in Perry and Leslie counties with unexampled results, capturing four large distilleries, one in full blast, two large copper stills of eighty-five and sixty-five capacity, copper worms in every case, 3,000 gallons of beer or mash, a barrel of moonshine liquor and paraphernalia.

That was a "new woman" indeed, who said in a speech: The only complaint we have to make against men is that they are a little too retiring." When they take to sarcasm the men would better take to the woods.

Human knowledge is limited. A thing is not necessarily mysterious because we cannot understand it.

Washington is entertaining a disciple of the occult who turns fish into eggs and performs other difficult feats. We'll bet a horse he can't turn the average Representative in Congress into a man.
